

Human Trafficking & Church Engagement (Canada Focus)

WHAT IS HUMAN TRAFFICKING?

Human trafficking is crime in which both children and adults are bought and sold into forced labor or commercial sexual exploitation through force, fraud, or coercion. It is a global problem that affects people in almost every country in the world, including Canada. Victims include men, women, and children, and they cross all racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and educational backgrounds.

BIBLICAL FOUNDATION FOR ENGAGEMENT

Human trafficking dehumanizes people, turning them into commodities. As the church, we believe every person is made in God's image and is, therefore, valuable and worthy of dignity (Genesis 1:27). Our hope is to see people restored into the fullness of who God created them to be. The Church of the Nazarene has endorsed the Wesleyan Holiness Consortium's Declaration for Freedom (available in the Resources section of ncm.org/trafficking).

WAYS YOUR CHURCH CAN ENGAGE IN ADDRESSING HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Pray and study. Human trafficking is an evil we can't fight on our own. Lead your congregation in studying Scripture and praying for individuals affected by human trafficking. You can find resources at ncm.org/FreedomSunday.

Learn to recognize the signs. The Canadian Centre to End Human Trafficking has a list of signs to spot at canadiancentretoendhumantrafficking.ca/signs-of-human-trafficking.

Report suspected cases of trafficking. Call (833) 900-1010 (open 24 hours a day, with translation) or go online to canadianhumantraffickinghotline.ca. Creating cards with this information for people to keep it in their wallets.

Educate leaders and volunteers. Train youth and children's ministry leaders in trafficking awareness, and teach youth and children to protect themselves from exploiters.

Teach children to be safer online. Netsmartz (netsmartz.org) offers good guidelines and resources.

Minister to youth in the foster care system, who are targeted by traffickers because of their need for protection and love. Contact a foster care agency and ask what your church can do to help youth, especially those who are aging out of the system. Consider getting involved in ministries such as Safe Families for Children (safefamiliescanada.com).

Engage in ministry to at-risk groups. Traffickers prey on and exploit those who are most vulnerable. Ideas for ministries that help to lessen vulnerability include these:

- Engage in mentoring programs that work to support at-risk youth in your area.
- Create after-school ministries that become safe places for children.
- Offer job skills training to increase opportunities for people who are unemployed.
- Partner with organizations that minister to at-risk children, youth, or adults, such as homeless shelters.
- Build relationships with local law enforcement and ask how you can support efforts to fight trafficking.
- Designate a member or team to coordinate anti-trafficking volunteer opportunities.

Understand trauma. Becoming a trauma-informed congregation will help your church know how to minister to anyone who has experienced significant trauma, including survivors of trafficking as well as children and youth whose trauma may put them at increased risk for being trafficked. Helpful resources include ACEs Too High (acestoohigh.com) and ACEs Connection (acesconnection.com).

Partner with like-minded organizations. Ask emergency shelters or residential homes for survivors about ways you can support. Ideas include these: Do a gift card drive or put together care packages (based on specific needs); offer to sponsor an event for residents of a restoration home; encourage members to donate services, such as medical or dental care, legal assistance, tutoring, or life skills training.

Fight the demand. Human trafficking is a big-money business fueled by greed. Our actions can drive demand for slave labor and commercial sex.

WHAT ARE NAZARENE CHURCHES DOING?

Nazarene Compassionate Ministries partners with local churches in anti-trafficking efforts that range from prevention and education to protection and rehabilitation. Learn more at ncm.org/trafficking.

- India Drop-In Center. “Hope for Life” is a church-led center in a red-light area that offers a space space for children and vocational training so that women being exploited can experience a different future.
- Refuge for Child Victims in the Philippines. The church in the Philippines has opened an assessment center for child victims of online sexual exploitation. When possible, children are reunified with family members; when that’s not possible, the team works toward a placing a child into a healthy, family-like setting.
- Moldova Mobile Intervention Clinic. Volunteers offer services for women being exploited, including medical services, psycho-social support, and referrals for organizations that can help them get off the streets.
- Rest Stop Ministries (reststopministries.org). Birthed out of the Hermitage (Tennessee, USA) Church of the Nazarene, Rest Stop is a two-year residential program, following a “housing-first” model for survivors of sex trafficking.
- Point Loma Nazarene University’s Center for Justice and Reconciliation (plnu.edu/cjr) has established the “Beauty for Ashes” scholarship to support the education of trafficking survivors.
